

Maiky's favorite study break Ideas

This list is ordered from least to most effort. Also * indicates that all supplies can be purchased at the U store.

Field Trip to Halo Pub-Its cheap, its good, and its great bonding (Do it early in the year so you can also do a tour of Palmer Square and beat the cold!

Gingerbread cookie house- Kits sold in walmart, add non alcoholic eggnog and you're good to go!

Cheese and Crackers*-Super easy and a crowd pleaser. Nothing says sophisticated like cheese and crackers on disposable plates!

Chips and Dip*-Crowd Favorite. You can also make it healthy by getting carrots and hummus

Baking Cookies*-Buy a tub of cookie dough, disposable baking sheets, and have your zees help you roll the dough and bake the cookies

Fondue-You'll need to go to walmart for this one, but the zees love, love, love it. Its great for Valentines day. Buy some semi-sweet chocolate, some cream or half and half and all the dippables your heart desires. I recommend strawberries,bananas, marshmallows, and nillawaffers. Nuke the chocolate with a bit of cream in the microwave until you get your desired consistency. Don't forget the sticks and no double dipping #beatTheMeng. Pro Tip: In the top right of picture is a ready to microwave little chocolate bowl. It was easy to use and made cleanup a breeze. It also lets you skip the cream.

Mocktails- You might wanna double up with another RCA for this one. Get Butler's blender and as many others as you can, 2 is good but 3 is ideal (ask your RGS, they are real people with real kitchens). Go to walmart and get drink mixers(margaritas and pina coladas are the most popular ones), ice, and garnishes. I like maraschino cherries, salt, and little umbrellas (also sold in walmart). Blend the mixers with ice and serve. I also made Shirley Temples and called them Shirley Tilghmans, but my zeeks didn't get it

Breakfast-Warning: An RCA who will not be mentioned almost burned butler down last year so remember to always keep an eye on the bacon! Go to walmart and get bacon, eggs, and pancake mix and the extra ingredients you might need to cook them. Ask your RGS, PAA, and zees for help! Dont forget that youll need a large bowl to mix the pancake batter. Pro tip: mix the batter in a large ziplock bag and cut out a corner to make smiley face pancakes

(Check back in a few weeks to see if I added any study breaks I might have missed):
