

What RCAs “Need-to-Know”: Connecting Zees to Service Opportunities

What: The Pace Center for Civic Engagement connects individuals and groups with experiential service opportunities to sustain lasting and meaningful change in the community and around the world. Through meaningful service, civic action break trips, social entrepreneurship, political action, student leadership, community advocacy, public service internships and fellowships, and volunteer teaching and tutoring you can discover what moves you and gain the knowledge, values and skills to do meaningful work and live a meaningful life.

Where: 201D Frist Campus Center. Enter in the main doors and make a left. The suite is just past the USG office. Feel free to walk through with your zeas; we'd love to meet you!

Why: The Pace Center is the prime resources for any zee who:

- Participated in civic engagement activities (community/social service, social justice, volunteer work, etc.) before coming to Princeton and would like to continue their involvement
- Would like to try a civic engagement activity for the first time
- Is looking to discover an alternate break experience
- Is interested in meeting other students with similar interests
- Wants to meet wonderful people and make new friends

When: Invite your zeas to Reflections on Service, the Pace Center's annual event that aims to inspire incoming students to participate in a dynamic range of civic engagement activities. This year's event is on September 9th from 4:15pm to 6:00pm in McCosh 50. This year's keynote speaker is Lisette Nieves; MPA '01; Commissioner, White House Commission on Education Excellence for Hispanics.

How:

- Encourage your zeas to check out the Civic Engagement Student Activities Fair and Student Activities Fair on September 12th, 12-3pm.

This will be located outside Dillon Gym and will allow zeas to get more information on the groups they are interested in, sign up for listservs to stay connected, and connect with Pace group leaders who are eager to welcome new students

- Let your zees know about the one-on-one Office Hours with PCCV (Pace Council for Civic Values) members

This is an opportunity to chat face-to-face with other students with any specific, individual questions on navigating the Pace Center. Search the WASS system for the calendar entitled: “PCCV Find Your Fit Office Hours” to sign up! Slots will be added ASAP, once members finalize their academic schedules.

Who: If your zees have any specific questions on how to get involved, please connect them to the following students:
